Industry Researcher for the Localisation Industry

OVERVIEW

As a proven Business Consultant and AI deployment specialist, I have played a pivotal role in developing enterprise solutions in the localisation industry.

Having successfully rolled out a host of Language AI solutions over the years, I have developed and fine-tuned a multi-faceted approach that is proven to deliver results for businesses that need to adapt their products or services to localised markets.

The work I do ensures the accuracy of language, legal compliance, brand consistency, and optimal market competitiveness. I achieve this through six key services:

MARKET TREND ANALYSIS

Gain valuable insights into evolving technologies such as AI-powered Machine Translation, as well as market-relevant issues such as the evolution of customer demand and global market trends. With my expert help, you will be able to take the kind of proactive approach that keeps localisation services relevant, competitive, and one step ahead of the industry curve.

TARGETED PRODUCT DEVELOPMENT

Develop your products or services according to the specific requirements of your market and known customer pain points. Allow me to assess your existing offerings to ensure they align with both current and future translation, localisation, and interpretation trends. With my expert assistance, you can exceed the expectations of your customers and ensure your organisation establishes a reputation as a trustworthy Language Service Provider.

CUSTOMER ENGAGEMENT AND RETENTION

Maximise customer satisfaction levels, develop productive, trust-based customer relationships, and cultivate loyalty by leveraging my proven engagement strategies and best practices. I will implement effective customer feedback loops that are fully personalised for your business – and your market. With my assistance, you can build the kind of lasting client relationships that form the foundations of any successful commercial enterprise.

COMPETITIVE INTELLIGENCE

Steal a march on your competitors by leveraging my in-depth research – ensuring you're always offering a best-in-class product. I work closely with Language Service Providers to carefully analyse the strategies, services, and market positioning of their competitors. The work I do empowers LSPs to fine-tune their offerings for long-term growth and market dominance.
